Description:	This course develops learners' ability to communicate effectively in familiar everyday and social situations. Students expand their use of common vocabulary and basic grammatical structures, develop generally intelligible pronunciation, and use appropriate conversation strategies in brief interactions and simple discussions. They practice listening for main ideas and specific information, reading short texts on familiar topics, and producing connected sentences and short paragraphs using appropriate vocabulary, basic grammar, and simple connectors. The course also develops interpersonal and soft skills for effective communication and integrates information technology and AI tools to support learning. Collaborative activities, responsible technology use, and self-assessment further promote learner autonomy and lifelong learning.
StudentTasks:	- Attend at least 80% of contact hours in order to be accepted to the final examination - Actively participate in class activities - Fulfil tasks given by lecturer after class - Use their own laptop in class only for learning purposes - Access the course website for up-to-date information and material of the course, for online support from lecturers and other students, and for practicing and assessment.
